

PORTA CAELI HOUSE

Extending Christ's love to those in need through compassionate end-of-life care, when dying at home is not an option.

Porta Caeli House is a community-supported home which provides loving, compassionate care for the terminally ill, completely free of charge, regardless of race, religion, or financial status.

PORTA CAELI HOUSE

Porta Caeli House offers a place where the terminally ill can live out their remaining days in a comfortable, loving, caring and dignified manner.

Porta Caeli House is not a medical hospice or long term care facility; we are essentially an extension of our guest's home. Caregivers and volunteers sensitive to end of life challenges offer 24 hour care while operating under the direction of each guest's independent hospice agency.

OUR HOME, YOUR FAMILY

Porta Caeli House guests are served regardless of race, illness, faith or financial status. Services are provided at no charge.

Our mission is to provide an environment dedicated to helping achieve the highest quality of living throughout our guests' last days. Each guest is provided with the following:

- Private bedroom with individual heating and cooling controls, along with a private patio
 - Overnight accommodations for an adult family member
 - Assistance with transfers, repositioning, eating, personal hygiene, and medications
- Simple meals can be prepared and served to the guest at any time per request
- Following the hospice agency's plan of care
